Information Technology Law

Preliminary note for EU Member State monographies: Please do not explain the provisions of European and international legal instruments, since these are dealt with in the EU monography. Simply refer to these provisions where relevant and focus on the specificity of the national legal framework.

The Author

Table of contents
List of abbreviations
Preface

General Introduction
§1. General Background of the Country
§2. Telecommunications Infrastructure
§3. The Information and Communications Technology Market
§4. Electronic Commerce: Facts and Figures
§5. E-Government

Part I. Digital Market Regulation
§1. Legal status of standards and technical specifications (non-binding self-regulation)
§2. Legal status of standard terms and conditions
§3. International private law applied to the online environment
§4. Competition law applied to the digital market
§5. Regulation of the electronic communications market (“telecommunications law”)
§6. Regulation of broadcasting activities (audio-visual services)
§7. Regulation of online interactive services (electronic commerce, online platforms, b2b platforms)
§8. Regulation of cryptography and dual-use goods

Part II. Online public services
§1. e-Government legal framework
§2. Legal framework for eHealth
§3. Online voting
§4. Other e-government services

Part III. Online transactions
§1. Electronic contracting (incl. smart contracts and blockchain)
§2. Electronic signatures
§3. Trust services (certificates, electronic mail services, etc.)
§4. Online financial services
§5. Law of evidence in the digital environment (incl. rules regarding electronic archiving)
§6. Consumer protection (online sales and online services)
§7. Liability of online service providers
Part IV: Intellectual rights ("digital rights")
§1. Patent law (applied to software, etc)
§2. Trademarks (application in the digital context)
§3. Design protection (application to digital products)
§4. Copyright protection in the digital context
§5. Legal protection of software
§6. Protection of databases (incl. "data ownership")
§7. Chips protection
§8. Protection of internet domain names

Part V: Cybersecurity law
§1. Institutional framework (cybersecurity agency, national CERT, etc)
§2. General obligations (for EU: transposition of the NIS Directive)
§3. Sector-specific obligations (e.g. financial sector, health sector, etc.)
§4. Liability and remedies

Part VI: Cybercrime
§1. Application of international and regional agreements (e.g. status of the Council of Europe Cybercrime Convention, law enforcement cooperation agreements, etc.)
§2. Specific computer crimes (unlawful access, identity theft, online fraud, online sabotage, forgery)
§3. Traditional crimes in a digital context (offences against decency, hate speech, defamation, etc.)
§4. Criminal procedural aspects (incl. data retention, interception of electronic communications, network search, seizure of data, duties of intermediaries)

Selected bibliography

Index