Comprehensive suite of tools

Search Tools

Customize your search

- Simultaneous, multifile searching: Use just one query to search all your subscribed textual and multimedia resources.
- Basic, natural language searching: Enter a complete question or phrase in plain English and our proprietary algorithm will return full-text, multimedia, and open access results.
- Advanced Search: Search full-text and multimedia using controlled vocabulary terms and definitions via Term Finder or command-line syntax for greater focus and precision.
- Ovid Term Finder: This feature enables you to build a search using MeSH® terms, Used For terms, subheadings, and Unified Medical Language System (UMLS) terms quickly and easily in a single pop-up box.
- Basic, Advanced, or Multi-Field Searching: A searching mode for every level of experience
- Find Citation, Multi-Field Search, Search Fields, and Search Tools: Additional options depending on how you like to work and what you're searching for

Other tools that are hosted outside of Ovid and that can be used for your searches include:
- Search Builder: A fully developed expert search strategy tool with step-by-step guidance
- Ovid Search Translation Tool: Translate searches from other research platforms to Ovid search syntax for use with databases on the Ovid platform.
- Ovid Expert Searches: This feature allows institutions to make searching faster and more efficient for their users with predefined search strategies created and saved by experts to meet specific needs and interests of specific users and user groups.
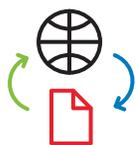

Manage your Search

- Search History: Identify how you conducted your search; display, edit, delete, or annotate your searches line by line, or save and share your search strategies with colleagues.
- Search Results Management: View and sort results according to multiple criteria, including relevancy, subject, and author, and export selected search results into a wide variety of export file formats.
- Citation Management: Select a preferred style - such as Ovid, Chicago, MLA, and many others - when viewing, printing, or exporting to your citation manager.

Content tools

- Content diversity and currency: Uncover information from a wide range of therapeutic areas and industries; plus, no content is ever embargoed.

- Multimedia options: Using Basic and Advanced Search, discover videos of lectures, product and technique demos, and expert presentations, as well as images and audio podcasts; browse multimedia using a dedicated interface tab.

- Comprehensive full-text linking: Access relevant full-text from bibliographic citations, databases, eBook chapters and indexes, and more.

- Flexible document delivery: Don't need the entire resource? Access single journal article through PayPerView Deposit Accounts.

- CRO Resource Center: Comprehensive databases that encompass drug and device safety, health economics, outcomes assessments, and more

Result management tools

- Robust storage capacity through your personal 'My Workspace': Save your work and search results and store, organize, and manage all your searches, research documents, and findings under 'My Projects.'

- Detailed statistics: Understand what and how your resources are being accessed, the way you want it. Statistics can be set up in a variety of ways and are compliant with the latest version of COUNTER.

- Customizable results display and exporting

Alert tools

- AutoAlerts: Create automatic email or RSS alerts to receive links to new articles that match your saved search criteria, with automated deduplication between databases and historical deduplication.

- eTOCs: Set up email or RSS notifications with links to just-released journal issues or tables of contents.
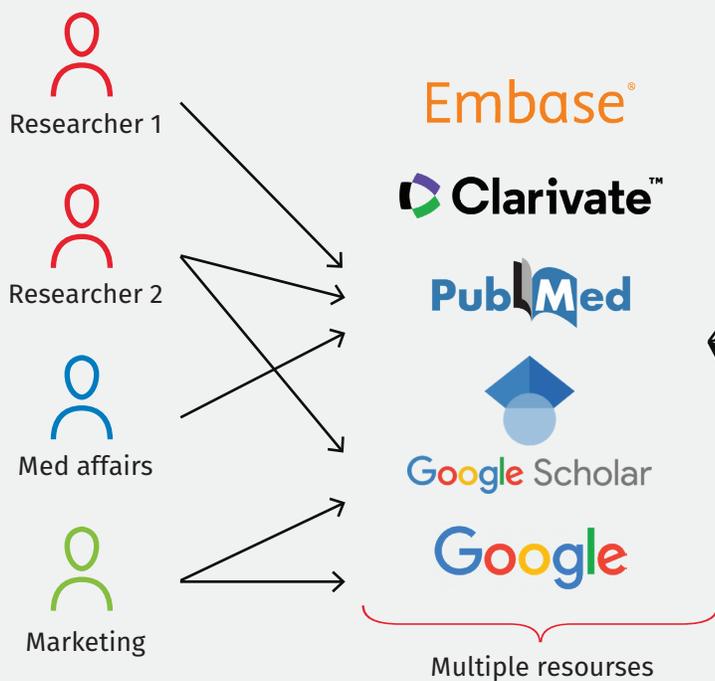

Why choose Ovid: Competitive advantages

Ovid stands out for its flexibility, precision, and extensive content offering. With a searching capability supported by a proprietary Boolean search engine, it covers all subscribed to or purchased journals, books, and databases, delivering the most comprehensive and high-precision search results.

The platform boasts 99.95% availability, serving over 8,565 institutions in 125 countries.

It also offers award-winning customer service with multilingual support.
