

The 10 essentials of a modern compliance content suite

Your institution's new power tool for faster, smarter, compliant deposit disclosure creation

The future of compliance content is self-serve

Financial institutions need speed, agility, and control. They also need unwavering confidence that every document, disclosure, and communication meets regulatory expectations. The Wolters Kluwer® CompliEditor Suite brings all this together by putting compliant editing capabilities directly into the hands of the teams who need them most.

CompliEditor gives your institution the power to move faster and still protect compliance every step of the way. It is the centerpiece of the new trusted compliance Content Suite and the key to transforming how your organization creates, updates, and manages its documents.

10 core requirements in a content suite

1 Expert-maintained content

Your teams start every edit with content that is already monitored, updated, and aligned with the latest regulations. CompliEditor gives them the ability to customize without slowing down.

4 Faster time to market

With self-serve editing, your institution can release updates and new products without waiting for long revision cycles. CompliEditor keeps your momentum strong.

2 Jurisdiction-ready language

Every template reflects the specific rules for the state or locality you serve. CompliEditor gives teams the confidence to edit without worrying about regional differences.

5 Audit-ready documentation

Every edit is tracked and tied to the correct template version. CompliEditor keeps your content transparent, organized, and exam ready.

3 Clear, customer-friendly messaging

The Wolters Kluwer CompliEditor Suite provides easy-to-understand language that builds trust. CompliEditor allows teams to adapt it while keeping the clarity customers expect.

6 Built for future changes

As regulations shift, the Wolters Kluwer CompliEditor Suite updates automatically. CompliEditor ensures your teams can act quickly once new language becomes available.

Legally reliable documents

Your institution can create documents that hold up to scrutiny. CompliEditor keeps edits aligned with proven content structures and version histories.

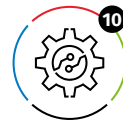

Consistency across channels

Whether digital, print, or in branch, CompliEditor helps teams deliver accurate, aligned messaging across every customer touchpoint.

Greater control with less work

Give teams the ability to adjust text independently while compliance maintains oversight. CompliEditor reduces complexity and helps every department work more efficiently.

A self-serve experience that elevates compliance

CompliEditor turns compliance content into a competitive advantage. Faster workflows, cleaner oversight, and dependable protection come together in one powerful tool.

Why self-service is the centerpiece of the new Wolters Kluwer CompliEditor Suite

CompliEditor transforms compliance from a bottleneck into a competitive advantage. Your institution gains:

- ✓ True self-serve editing that keeps teams moving
- ✓ Reliable compliance guardrails built directly into every template
- ✓ Faster updates with fewer approval delays
- ✓ Stronger brand alignment through controlled customization
- ✓ Confidence that every change meets regulatory expectations

CompliEditor is not just an editing tool. It is a smarter way to work, a safer way to manage content, and the heart of a modernized compliance ecosystem.

Empower every team.
Protect every document.
Move at the speed
of opportunity.

The functionality and freedom of CompliEditor and the trusted compliance of Wolters Kluwer Content gives your institution the tools to work quickly, confidently, and in complete alignment with ever-changing regulatory demands.

When your institution controls its content,
it controls its future.

Schedule a personalized demo today →