The Bona Fide Investor: Corporate Nationality and Treaty Shopping in Investment Treaty Law

Simon Foote QC

This incomparable book brings coherence to the debate about the attribution and use of nationality corporations in the field of investment treaty law. It will be of immense interest and use to practitioners who advise on investment treaty jurisdictional issues for clients (whether states or investors) and debate jurisdictional concepts and corporate nationality issues before international tribunals. It significantly advances academic thought on the issue of corporate treaty shopping in investment treaty law, and it will be a useful resource, as well as a challenge, to arbitrators regarding the extent to which investment treaty tribunals tolerate manipulation of corporate nationality and circumscribe jurisdiction to protect the legitimacy of the investment treaty system.

International Arbitration in the Netherlands, with a Commentary on the NAI and PCA Arbitration Rules

Albert Marsman

The Netherlands, long known for its encouragement and facilitation of arbitration as a forum for the resolution of international disputes, frequently draws multinational corporations, States, and international organizations from all parts of the world for the conduct of international arbitration. Over the past decades, several of the world's largest international arbitrations have been seated in the Netherlands, including numerous investment arbitrations under the auspices of the Permanent Court of Arbitration (PCA) in The Hague. This book, written by a highly experienced international arbitration counsel with extensive input from members of the author's firm, is the most detailed English-language commentary and analysis on how international arbitrations seated in the Netherlands proceed under the most commonly used sets of arbitration rules and contrasts the conduct of international arbitrations in the Netherlands with that in other jurisdictions.

International Arbitration in Sweden: A Practitioner's Guide, Second Edition

Edited Annette Magnusson, Jakob Ragnwaldh, Martin Wallin

International Arbitration in Sweden, now in its second edition, is a compendious book penned by sixteen eminent practitioners that furnishes a practical guide to international arbitration in Sweden, whether ad hoc or institutional. Sweden is one of a handful of countries where the international arbitral process has reached a stage where the jurisprudence is replete with instances involving no local parties at all. In this context of credible neutrality, the Arbitration Institute of the Stockholm Chamber of Commerce (SCC) has emerged as a leading global arbitral institution. Whether the matter at issue is a business transaction dispute or a politicized conflict involving obdurate parties, the richness of its body of decided cases manifests the SCC's authority and reliability throughout the converging world of international arbitration.

Arbitration in India

Edited Dushyant Dave, Martin Hunter, Fali Nariman, Marike Paulsson

Arbitration in India is a complete treatise – first of its kind, from the formation of the arbitration agreement in India to the enforcement of domestic and international awards – that aims to provide an up-to-date analysis of arbitration in India for those foreign counsels and arbitrators who have arbitrations in India and for Indian local counsel to understand the effects of international arbitration. India has a long-standing tradition of dispute resolution through arbitration, with arbitral-type regulations going back to the eighteenth century. Today, amendments to the 1996 Indian Arbitration Act, a steady evolution of case law and new arbitral institutions position India's vibrant system once more at the forefront of international commercial dispute resolution. International arbitration practitioners, Indian practitioners, and scholars have combined efforts to produce a practical and informative guide on the subject.

EU Cross-Border Commercial Mediation: Listening to Disputants - Changing the Frame; Framing the Changes

Anna Howard

EU Cross-Border Commercial Mediation is a book which focuses on the European Union's (EU's) continued efforts to encourage the use of cross-border mediation and examines why such efforts have had a limited impact. It does so drawing on rare, and at times surprising, detailed insights from the in-house counsel of multinational companies regarding their use of EU cross-border commercial mediation. Viewing mediation through the disputants' perspective, new and important findings regarding why disputants do, and do not, use cross-border mediation have emerged. While these findings are of primary relevance to EU policy and practice, they have implications far beyond the EU context at a time of increasing international interest in cross-border mediation.

Competition Policy: An Empirical and Economic Approach

Emmanuel Combe

Competition Policy aims to explain competition policy through economic analysis of antitrust cases, focusing on Europe and comparing with the U.S. It is a truism of competition that, paradoxically, those responsible for yesterday's innovations and productivity become obstacles to future growth. At a time of increasing public concern regarding high industrial concentration, especially in the digital sector, the question of regulating competition is returning to the forefront. This utterly original book, which thoroughly explains competition policy using economic analyses, illuminates the complex but crucial back and forth between theory and practice.

Vertical Restraints in the Digital Economy: Vertical Block Exemption Regulation Reform and the Future of Distribution

Adina Claiici, Denis F. Waelbroeck

Vertical agreements between undertakings at the various levels of a supply chain have long been seen as a fundamental focus for antitrust legislation, such as the European Union's Vertical Block Exemption Regulation (VBER). It goes without saying that such issues are particularly prevalent in digital markets. This authoritative commentary analyses the main restrictions in vertical agreements, emphasising the numerous new and contentious issues arising in the context of Internet distribution. It offers both legal and economic perspectives, as well as examines enforcement and possible changes to the legislation.

Competition Law of the European Union, Sixth Edition

Van Bael & Bellis

Competition Law of the European Union provides a comprehensive analysis of the EU competition rules as developed primarily the Commission, the General Court and the Court of Justice. The new Sixth Edition of a major work the well-known competition law team at Van Bael & Bellis in Brussels reflects the many developments in the case law and relevant legislation that have occurred since the Fifth Edition in 2010. This edition follows the successful format of previous editions in covering all substantive and procedural aspects of the EU antitrust rules and merger control, as well as including a much-extended chapter on private enforcement and, for the first time, a dedicated section on competition law in the pharmaceutical sector.

Fundamentals of United States Intellectual Property Law Copyright, Patent, and Trademark, Seventh Edition

Amanda Reid, Sean Tu, Jessica Kiser

Fundamentals of United States Intellectual Property Law, currently in its seventh edition, is a completely revised and updated version of a well-received desk reference that offers in one volume an exhaustive review of United States (US) copyright, patent, and trademark laws. Similar to its previous editions, the book's thorough and sophisticated treatment of this complex material escapes, on the one hand, the cumbersome overelaboration of a multivolume treatise and, on the other hand, a superficial "nutshell."

Trade Secret Protection: Asia at a Crossroads

Kung-Chung Liu, Reto Hilty

Trade Secret Protection: Asia at a Crossroads, a first-of-its-kind systematized research of trade secret protection laws covering several Asian jurisdictions, furnishes an in-depth analysis of the relevant statutory and case law of Japan, Korea, China, Taiwan, Thailand, Singapore, Hong Kong, Malaysia, and India. Additionally, a chapter on the European Union trade secret protection law enables further comparison. Trade secret protection law has gained increasing importance in recent years, as companies implement strategies to protect their intellectual property in a competitive environment with rapidly developing technology. This holds especially true for Asia, where the staggering commercial value of trade secrets, stiff cross-border competition, and large-scale labour mobility characterize the region's economy.

Exceptions in EU Copyright Law: In Search of a Balance Between Flexibility and Legal Certainty

Tito Rendas

Exceptions in EU Copyright Law deals with comprehensive redesigning of Article 5 of the Information Society Directive (InfoSoc Directive). In a copyright system characterised by broad and long-lasting exclusive rights, exceptions provide a vital counterweight, especially in times of rampant technological change. The EU's controversial InfoSoc Directive – now two decades old – lists exceptions in which an unauthorised user will not have infringed the rightholder's copyright, and there have been calls for reform in order to achieve a better balance between flexibility and legal certainty. The question to reform or not to reform this legal framework has been considered in great depth in this book, providing detailed theoretical and normative analysis of the Directive, the national and CJEU case law arising from it, and meticulously thought-out proposals for change.

A Multilateral Convention for Tax: From Theory to Implementation

Sergio André Rocha, Allison Christians

The legal workings and implications of the MLI might still seem like a mystery to those whose day-to-day work is impacted by it, and as yet, little jurisprudence regarding its legal nature or ultimate effect on the bilateral treaties is coming within its scope. Consequently, this trailblazing book will be highly appreciated by in-house counsel and law firms advising cross-border investors and firms; nongovernmental organizations involved in policy analysis and issue advocacy; researchers working on technical areas of international tax law; and lawyers interested in international policymaking, including the creation and diffusion of consensus-based fiscal and related regulatory norms across jurisdictions of different development levels.

Regulation and Tax in Space

Galya Savir

Regulation and Tax in Space, authored by a tax attorney with first-hand knowledge of the aerospace issues involved, is the first book to delve deep into the yet-to-be-resolved practicalities of taxation of resources mined in space. By international consensus, space is considered as a commons for all humanity. Now, however, as space activities and technologies are chiefly focused on commercial interests in extraterrestrial mineral resources, the mechanisms for allocating space mining resources must be sketched out to balance the efficient use of resources with a fair and stable tax system.

Exploring the Nexus Doctrine In International Tax Law

Ajit Kumar Singh

Exploring the Nexus Doctrine in International Tax Law examines the concepts of territorial nexus for jurisdictional tax apportionment and brings into sharp focus the emerging economic connection as a jurisprudential justification for taxing non-residents' income. In an age when cross-border business transactions are increasingly affected without the transference of physical products, revenue concerns of states have led to a multitude of tax disputes based on the concept of 'nexus'. This important and timely book is the most authoritative to date to discuss one of the major tax topics of our time – the question of how taxing rights on income generated from cross-border activities in the digital age should be allocated among jurisdictions.

The Concept of Permanent Establishment in the Insurance Business

Daniele Frescurato

The Concept of Permanent Establishment in the Insurance Business is a trailblazing book focusing on the issues that the insurance companies encounter concerning a permanent establishment, providing an in-depth analysis of how the concept is applied in the context of the insurance industry and further considering potential changes to the permanent establishment definition contained in tax treaties to reflect specific features of this industry. The models commonly used to negotiate bilateral tax treaties say very little about the insurance industry and how the dependent agent permanent establishment provision may affect cross-border marketing, promotion, and insurance distribution.
