Datasheet

Improve your efficiency the most accurate sales and use tax rates and taxability data

The ever-changing sales and use tax rates and jurisdictional boundaries often make it difficult to stay current — and with the added pressure of having to be right every time, staying current is especially imperative. At Wolters Kluwer, we ensure you have accurate content for your lookup and research needs. With CCH Sales Tax RADAR, a browser-based platform, you can save valuable time by finding tax rates and taxability rules in a fraction of what it would take to manually research or use state websites.

RADAR Rates

- Rates and Administration — Quickly find detailed sales and use tax rate information for a particular location.
- Rate Changes — Keep up to date with the sales and use tax rate changes in thousands of tax jurisdictions.
- Rate Directory — Generate a list of sales and use tax rates that are summarized at the state, county, city, and special district/local level.

RADAR Rates and Taxability

- Determine the applicable sales or use tax rate of a specific product, or service for a particular place as of a specific date, preparing you in the event of an audit.
- Taxability Changes — Review a list of all product groups and items with taxability changes during a date range. Select specific products or services to view details so you can make changes before an audit happens.
- Taxability Matrix — Easily research whether certain products or services are subject to tax as of a specific date.
- Rate Changes — Keep up to date with the sales and use tax rate changes.
- Rate Directory — Generate a list of sales and use tax rates that are summarized at the state, county, city, and special districts or local level.

Solve inefficiency and accuracy challenges with cloud-based CCH® Sales Tax RADAR

Answers based on geocodes

Access the most accurate rates and taxability information available and ensure data accuracy with address validation, ZIP+4 results, and geospatial boundary data.

Ability to import locations, SKUs

Save time by automating the research process. Set up business locations in the system, import and map product SKUs to Wolters Kluwer product groups and items, and generate searches based on them.

Improved user experience

- Reduce the training time required with a user-friendly interface.
- Easily tailor search results for your specific needs by filtering, sorting, or grouping data or rearranging grid columns.
- Make quick and accurate taxability decisions for transactions (e.g., invoicing customers, etc).
- Reduce time spent in research and problem escalation by saving a search so it's easily identified and retrieved later.

Audit defense at your fingertips

- Export important search results to Excel® for audit, billing escalation, sales force support, research on a product, service, or other purposes.
- Pinpoint rate or taxability information for a specific date or date range, which may be necessary for billing inquiries, audit defense or voluntary disclosure.
