

MIDIRS Resources

Current Full-Text and Bibliographic Midwifery and Nursing Research

Midwives, students and nurses with a practice focus on maternity and childcare require easy access to new and best practice information as well as professional development news.

MIDIRS, an educational non-profit, is the professionals' source of choice for high-quality, evidence-based resources. MIDIRS merged with the Royal College of Midwives in 2019 and their resources — MIDIRS Midwifery Digest and the Maternity and Infant Care Database — are available on Ovid®.

Users can now search both MIDIRS resources at the same time and find precise information quickly so they can succeed — in class or on the job.

Core Resources from MIDIRS in Pregnancy, Childbirth and Infancy

MIDIRS Midwifery Digest Journal

MIDIRS Midwifery Digest on Ovid is an essential publication consisting of news, reviews, original articles and reprints of the best midwifery information from selected journals, websites, books, pamphlets, government reports, conference proceedings and other sources.

Articles are highlighted for use as part of a professional portfolio, providing an opportunity to:

- Maintain and plan CPE
- Reflect on practice and examine local policies and procedures
- Promote discussion with colleagues.

Maternity and Infant Care Database

Both in training and in practice, healthcare professionals supporting women during pregnancy, childbirth and the postnatal period are already using the Maternity and Infant Care database on Ovid. Physicians, clinicians, researchers and students can search this bibliographic database of more than 270,000 references drawn from over 400 English language journals, book chapters, reports, guidelines, press releases, conference proceedings and other 'grey' literature.

Produced by MIDIRS, the database was first developed in 1988 and spans a wide range of subject areas — including pregnancy, labor, birth, neonatal and postnatal care, infant feeding, and the midwifery profession. The database also includes details of correspondence and commentary written in response to an article. Many of the records are assigned to one or more of 570 standard searches on key topics in order to provide fast retrieval, using either a code or a browsable index of topics.

Award-winning Support and Consultative Services

- Ovid's award-winning support teams help implement tools into your library for the most optimized deployment, promotion, training, configuration and customization.
- 24/7 support is available in over 20 different languages.

The global Customer Engagement team has attained best-in-class recognition through Omega Management Group's NorthFace ScoreBoard Award™ for superior customer satisfaction scores for the last five years running.
