

Trusted risk mitigation for ABLs and factors

By partnering with Lien Solutions, you won't miss a tax lien in time for you to act on it; your financing statements are recorded as required to achieve perfection; you can maintain perfection by acting when a situation of your borrower changes and puts your claim in jeopardy; and with our automated process, due diligence has never been easier. Our expert service teams and technology solutions provide peace of mind so you can have confidence in your investments.

Lenders who partner with Lien Solutions can:

Put lien detection on "autopilot"

You want to be alerted with immediacy to events in the external environment that can threaten your lien position. And you want the agility to react quickly to take action to protect yourself. Lien Solutions provides fully automated/paperless recurring searches at the county court and recorder abstracting levels, which is the surest and most complete method of detecting tax liens quickly and effectively. This timely, accurate information is combined with seamless automation and "red flag" alerts for quick, efficient management of risk.

Asset-based lenders and factors nationwide trust Lien Solutions to help them with lien detection and other threats to their position.

Stay perfected with UCC debtor and business entity monitoring

Lien Solutions monitors for any change in debtor name or business entity status, so lenders can take action to maintain perfection whenever a change occurs in a borrower's situation. Lenders who subscribe to our monitoring service are informed when new UCC-1s or UCC-3s are filed against a given debtor in a given state. Automatic notification is also provided when an entity debtor has a name or status change considered an adverse event that affects its good standing status in its state of formation.

Avoid losing a claim due to an incorrect debtor name

Filing a UCC-1 with the incorrect legal variation of a name — however minor — may result in an invalid claim for your firm. Debtor name verification tools are built into our technology platform, providing a way to identify the exact correct debtor name through a legal name verification search. From there, lenders can also order copies of a company's Articles of Incorporation and amendments for the greatest protection.

Stay organized with a paperless process

Like your processes, Lien Solutions is completely automated — no paper!

Achieve fast recordation as well as cost savings with electronic filing

File quickly and easily using our nationwide service teams, or you may file yourself online using our e-filing technology, available for most states.

Reduce redundant work with simultaneous, multi-jurisdictional UCC filing and searches

Using our technology platform, select multiple jurisdictions for a particular search name, all at the same time. You don't need to spend valuable time or risk typographical errors keying in data multiple times.

Trust in our expert service teams

Our seasoned service teams help ensure your financing statements are recorded as required to achieve perfection. This includes filing in the right jurisdiction, according to jurisdictional guidelines and under the exact correct debtor name. Our nationwide service teams consist of jurisdictional and industry experts, all extremely familiar with each Secretary of State and jurisdictional office requirements throughout the United States and related territories, including policies, procedures, fees, turnaround times and more.

With our fully automated/paperless scheduled searches and monitoring, robust technology solutions and the most experienced search and filing expertise available, Lien Solutions is unmatched in its value for perfection, detection, knowledge, service and automation.
