At Wolters Kluwer, in close collaboration with our partners, we remove all the burden of managing the cloud infrastructure and handle the day-to-day operations of monitoring, updating, and maintaining the OneSumX Finance, Risk and Regulatory Reporting solution.

Fully customizable and compatible with all OneSumX products

Highest level of security by design

High availability and disaster recovery for applications

24/7 operations for cloud environment and processes

Future scalability for your growing business needs

OneSumX applications on secure cloud technology

By utilizing the most performant public cloud providers we can help you better manage your data and performance demands allowing for greater focus on your business needs. We enable you to maximize the value of your investment and drive innovation and efficiency with our professional services experts.
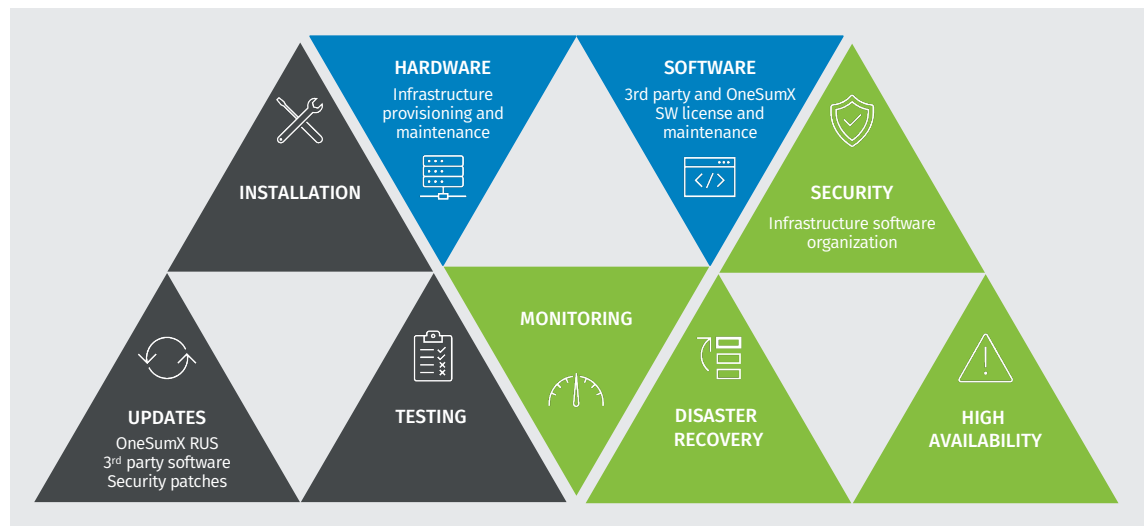

A comprehensive approach to managing your applications

- We provide our solutions in a Virtual Private Cloud on your desired provider (Microsoft Azure, Amazon Web Services) to create a highly resilient environment of enterprise-grade service and store infrastructure managed by networking and support specialists.

- Our Professional Services (PS) team works with your IT team to implement a new, or migrate an existing, OneSumX infrastructure in a newly provisioned OR existing cloud environment.

- Once the solution is in production, the PS team offers hands-free remote monitoring and maintenance of the OneSumX solution.

Maintain system performance and business results

- Different applications require varying maintenance schedules and considerations. We have decades of experience managing applications with rapid change requirements through our Regulatory Update Services (RUS).

- RUS is fully enabled in this managed environment, giving you the confidence to meeting ever-changing requirements in accordance with regulatory deadlines and managing your organization's integrated regulatory compliance and reporting needs effectively and efficiently.

- Software Management Services ensure that your upgrade processes and requirements are fulfilled, enabling you to focus on regulatory compliance, accuracy and changes.
