European Company Law

Author Guide

[A] Aim of the Journal

The high frequency of cross-border corporate activity, national and European developments on stakeholderism and continuing focus in Europe on harmonization of securities law continue to pose a challenge to legislators and corporate practitioners. Moreover, the trend remains to look at the company law developments in other jurisdictions, especially with the EU, for inspiration and guidance on how to address challenges in company law. Staying up to date in this dynamic and ever-changing area of law is no easy task. To assist you in managing this challenge Kluwer Law International publishes European Company Law (ECL), a academic journal that provides you with an authoritative overview of current developments.

European Company Law has been designed to be the ideal working tool for academics and practitioners with an interesting and / or practice in EU and comparative company law. Published bi-monthly and available in print and online, you'll find it a time saving way of keeping up-to-date with all the issues affecting European company law and comparative company law in the EU.

ECL's Main Editors are Mieke Olaerts and Bastiaan Kemp. Mieke Olaerts is Professor of Comparative and National Company Law at Maastricht University. Bastiaan Kemp is Professor of Corporate Governance and Corporate Regulation at Maastricht University and a partner at Loyens & Loeff N.V.. The Editorial Board is comprised of leading academics from various European law schools, assisted by the Board's secretaries Damla Bos and Lucia Jeremiasová, both from Maastricht University.

[C] Submission Guidelines

[1] An article title should be concise, with a maximum of 70 characters.
[2] The article should contain an abstract, a short summary of about 200 words. This abstract will also be added to the free search zone of the Kluwer Online database.
[3] To further boost the search engine optimization (SEO) of your article, please provide approximately ten keywords that describe the content of your contribution (including where applicable the jurisdiction or organization commented on).
[4] If an article comments on legislation or jurisprudence, please highlight full details of the referenced material. For jurisprudence specifically, this means the parties involved, court name, case number, and decision date. This will ensure clarity, traceability, and accurate metadata tagging.
[5] A brief biographical note, including both the current affiliation as well as the e-mail address of the author(s), should be provided in the first footnote of the manuscript.
[6] Contributions should have a range of approximately 4,000 to 5,000 words (footnotes excluded).
[7] Only articles in English will be considered for publication. Manuscripts should be written in standard English, while using 'ize' and 'ization' instead of 'ise' and 'isation'. Preferred reference source is the Oxford English Dictionary. However, in case of quotations the original spelling should be maintained. In case the complete article is written by an American author, US spelling may also be used.

[8] Manuscripts will be returned to the author if the English is below standard. In case of doubt about the correct use of the English language, authors are advised to have their text checked by a native speaker before submitting it.

[9] Heading levels should be clearly indicated.

[10] Special attention should be paid to quotations, footnotes, and references. All citations and quotations must be verified before submission of the manuscript. The accuracy of the contribution is the responsibility of the author. The journal has adopted the Association of Legal Writing Directors (ALWD) legal citation style to ensure uniformity. Citations should not appear in the text but in the footnotes. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively, using the footnote function in Word so that if any footnotes are added or deleted the others are automatically renumbered. The year of publication must be provided for all references and the access date must be provided for all URL type references.

[11] Tables should be self-explanatory and their content should not be repeated in the text. Do not tabulate unnecessarily. Tables should be numbered and should include concise titles.

[12] Figures should be submitted as separate files along with the manuscript, and it is important that they are high quality: .tif or .jpg files with a resolution of at least 600 dpi. Image material that has been downloaded from the internet generally is not acceptable due to low resolution.

[13] Submitted manuscripts are understood to be final versions. They must not have been published or submitted for publication elsewhere.

[14] Manuscripts should be submitted electronically, in Word format, via e-mail.

For further information on style, see the House Style Guide.

[D] Review Process

[1] Before submission to the publisher, manuscripts will be reviewed by the Board of Editors and may be returned to the author for revision. Reviewers can be aware of the identity of the authors, but authors will in principle not be aware of the identity of reviewers.

[2] The journal's policy is to provide an initial assessment of the submission within thirty days of receiving the posted submission. In cases where the article is externally referred for review, this period may be extended.

[3] The editors reserve the right to make alterations as to style, punctuation, grammar etc.

[4] As a rule the author will not receive proofs of the article. Proofreading will be taken care of by the Board of Editors.

[E] Copyright

[1] Publication in the journal is subject to authors signing a 'Consent to Publish and Grant of Exclusive Licence' form. By signing this Form, authors warrant and represent that their contribution does not contain infringing, libellous, obscene or other unlawful matter.

[2] Authors are allowed to post their articles on public websites such as SSRN subject to the conditions set in our Rights & Permissions Guide. In this Guide you can also find which other rights remain reserved to the author.

[3] The author shall receive for the rights granted a free copy of the issue of the journal in which the article is published, plus a PDF file of his/her article.

[F] Indexing & abstracting databases

[1] The journal is indexed in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (Web of Science)
