NILS™ MCE for P&C

Effectively manage your compliance risk and increase market conduct efficiency with state-specific regulatory insight and comprehensive audit functionality.

The benefits of an effective market conduct program have never been more critical to an insurer's bottom line. Compliance professionals must deal with over 30,000 (and growing) countrywide requirements that govern property/casualty market conduct. The market conduct examination process is complex, time consuming, and costly.

Available for Property and Casualty and Workers' Compensation insurance, NILS MCE for P&C delivers an easy-to-use market conduct research tool helping insurers research prior market conduct exam reports and enforcement orders, prepare and respond to current examinations, and maintain compliance with market conduct requirements.

Supported by our team of experts who understand the insurance industry, NILS solutions combine proven technology, regulatory content, and the expertise of Wolters Kluwer Financial Services. NILS provides regulatory intelligence and research unique and critical to the business of insurance, ensuring that users get the focused content needed for efficient research and effective compliance.

Compliance-focused market conduct for property and casualty insurance

- Assess market conduct compliance requirements through targeted searches by state, lines of business, and market conduct topics
- Easily locate criticisms and actions (exam reports and orders) by date or keyword for a given time period, and determine what topics have appeared in actual criticisms or exams
