Journal of World Trade

Author Guide

[A] Aim of the Journal

Far and away the most thought-provoking and informative journal in its field, the Journal of World Trade sets the agenda for both scholarship and policy initiatives in this most critical area of international relations. It is the only journal which deals authoritatively with the most crucial issues affecting world trade today.

With penetrating, in-depth analysis, the Journal examines the relationship between the separate and interconnected regional and global integration processes stemming from today's challenging multilateral trading structure. Constantly varying trade policies, expanded use of FTAs and ongoing developments in the World Trade Organization have each raised complex questions that cut across many disciplines: economic, political, social and legal. The constant evolution of the international trading system, changes in production and distribution technologies, and demands by individuals for progress in the sphere of social welfare all heighten the need for this platform for the creative consideration of the various trends in world trade.

The Journal of World Trade fills this need, focusing on multilateral, regional, and bilateral trade negotiations, on various anti-dumping and unfair trade practices issues, and on the endless succession of vital new issues that arise constantly in this turbulent field of activity. The approach is consistently multidisciplinary.

Scholars, government officials, and negotiators turn to the Journal of World Trade when they seek to expose ground-breaking theses, to make important policy statements, to or offer in-depth analysis and discussion of delicate trade issues.

[C] Submission Guidelines

[1] An article title should be concise, with a maximum of 70 characters.
[2] The article should contain an abstract, a short summary of about 200 words. This abstract will also be added to the free search zone of the Kluwer Online database.
[3] To further boost the search engine optimization (SEO) of your article, please provide approximately ten keywords that describe the content of your contribution (including where applicable the jurisdiction or organization commented on).
[4] If an article comments on legislation or jurisprudence, please highlight full details of the referenced material. For jurisprudence specifically, this means the parties involved, court name, case number, and decision date. This will ensure clarity, traceability, and accurate metadata tagging.

[5] A brief biographical note, including both the current affiliation as well as the e-mail address of the author(s), should be provided in the first footnote of the manuscript.
[6] Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words, including footnotes, and submitted in MS WORD.
[7] Only articles in English will be considered for publication. Manuscripts should be written in standard English, while using 'ize' and 'ization' instead of 'ise' and 'isation'. Preferred reference source is the Oxford English Dictionary. However, in case of quotations the original spelling should be maintained. In case the complete article is written by an American author, US spelling may also be used.
[8] Manuscripts will be returned to the author if the English is below standard. In case of doubt about the correct use of the English language, authors are advised to have their text checked by a native speaker before submitting it.
[9] Heading levels should be clearly indicated.
[10] Special attention should be paid to quotations, footnotes, and references. All citations and quotations must be verified before submission of the manuscript. The accuracy of the contribution is the responsibility of the author. The journal has adopted the Association of Legal Writing Directors (ALWD) legal citation style to ensure uniformity. Citations should not appear in the text but in the footnotes. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively, using the footnote function in MS WORD so that if any footnotes are added or deleted the others are automatically renumbered.
[11] Tables should be self-explanatory and their content should not be repeated in the text. Do not tabulate unnecessarily. Tables should be numbered and should include concise titles.
[12] Figures should be submitted separate in high quality: .tif or .jpg files with a resolution of at least 600 dpi. Image material that has been downloaded from the internet generally is not acceptable due to low resolution.
[13] Submitted manuscripts are understood to be final versions. They must not have been published or submitted for publication elsewhere.
[14] Manuscripts should be submitted electronically, in MS WORD format, via e-mail.

For further information on style, see the House Style Guide.

[D] Review Process

[1] Before submission to the publisher, manuscripts will be reviewed by the Editor and/or by an associate editor selected by the Editor and may be accepted, rejected or returned to the author for revision.
[2] The journal's policy is to provide an initial assessment of the submission within thirty days of receiving the posted submission. In cases where the article is externally referred for review, this period may be extended.
[3] The Editor reserves the right to make alterations as to style, punctuation, grammar etc.
[4] The author will receive PDF proofs of the article, and any corrections should be returned within the scheduled dates.

[E] Copyright

[1] Publication in the journal is subject to authors signing a 'Consent to Publish and Grant of Exclusive Licence' form. By signing this Form, authors warrant and represent that their contribution does not contain infringing, libellous, obscene or other unlawful matter.

[2] Authors are allowed to post their articles on public websites such as SSRN subject to the conditions set in our Rights & Permissions Guide. In this Guide you can also find which other rights remain reserved to the author.
[3] The author shall receive for the rights granted a free copy of the issue of the journal in which the article is published, plus a PDF file of his/her article.

[F] Indexing & abstracting databases

[1] The journal is indexed in Scopus;
[2] The journal is indexed in the Social Science Citation Index (Web of Science) ;
[3] The journal is indexed in EBSCO Legal Source database;
