Comprehensive Research on Ovid®

Customized Searching, Workflow Tools, and High-Quality Content

Regardless of the size and intensity of the project, Ovid offers the flexibility, speed, and productivity every researcher needs.

Ovid offers not only access to foundational resources in biomedicine, biosciences, and life sciences—such as Ovid MEDLINE®, Embase®, Global Health, Northern Light, and Ovid® Emcare—but also the search functionality and research tools that accelerate and, ultimately, improve research.

Research your way—for the results you need!

Search multiple resources simultaneously to maximize efficiency and focus on your work

Why Use Ovid for Your Research?

- Simultaneous searching across all of your Ovid databases, journals and books delivering trusted, comprehensive results, and eliminating possible confusion trying to compile results across multiple platforms— save time and money!

- Automatic deduping minimizes overlap, speeds retrieval, and maximizes accuracy of relevant results.

- Easy linking to full-text—all journals on Ovid are scholarly, peer-reviewed and non-embargoed. Access to Lippincott Williams & Wilkins (LWW) full-text journals — exclusively on Ovid!

- Access to grey literature uncovers unpublished research, filling in critical research gaps.

- Searches can be updated quickly by inserting a new line anywhere into your searches; plus, easily edit and annotate any search history line.

- Controlled vocabularies produce the same results no matter which terms you've used

- Archival databases map directly to primary research sources also on Ovid.

- Frequently used searches are automatically edited without restarting, or saved into folders for later use.

- Natural language searching enables fast, relevancy-ranked results and advanced searching enables greater precision.

- Inline citation abstracts, annotations, quick links to full text, and other tools streamline research activities.

- Email and electronic table of contents alerts keep you connected to the latest developments.

- Customer service staff provide training tips and create web pages of subscribed resources to improve user access.

- Bulk pricing options on multiple resource subscriptions help you save.

- PayPerView and Deposit Accounts enable access to individual journal articles.

- Ovid® Discovery vastly expands research scope to include all library holdings, as well as external content—covering 100 million biomedical resources!

- Personal folders with robust storage capacity helps manage all content—including external documents—for search projects.
