“Our previous consolidation system had become legacy: outdated and difficult to maintain. We wanted to move into a cloud-based, future-proof solution that users could manage more independently, without heavy IT support. Since going live with CCH Tagetik, we’ve accelerated our close by about five working days.”

Kelvin Tan, Head, Corporate Finance, Banyan Group

CPM challenges

Before implementing CCH Tagetik, Banyan Group relied on Hyperion Financial Management, a system that became legacy, outdated, and difficult to maintain. With over 80 legal entities across 17 countries, the group had a complex legal structure and required localized accounting GAAPs, multiple currencies, and multiple segments. The combination of aging technology, growing complexity, and amassing requirements led Banyan Group’s team to one conclusion: it was time to modernize its consolidation platform.

New software objectives

Banyan Group aimed to move to a new, cloud-based solution that would:

- Support complex, multi-GAAP reporting requirements
With reporting obligations under both Singapore GAAP and Thai GAAP, Banyan Group required a system capable of handling multiple accounting standards and regulatory requirements, at both the group and entity level, within a single platform.
- Manage large-scale, multi-entity consolidation
The solution needed to support consolidation across hundreds of legal entities, multiple currencies, business segments, and geographies, while providing Banyan Group’s team with accurate data and control over its processes.
- Reduce reliance on heavy IT support
Banyan Group’s finance team needed greater independence. The team wanted the ability to manage, deploy, and maintain the system without ongoing, intensive IT involvement.

The solution: CCH® Tagetik

Banyan Group selected CCH Tagetik for its ability to support a highly complex, multi-GAAP, multi-entity global structure, while laying the foundation for future finance transformation initiatives.
